

CIPS is holding its 9th annual IT Professionalism week; formerly know as I.S.P. week, from November 2nd to 6th 2009. This week is a time to celebrate CIPS, Information Technology (IT) professionalism, and the I.S.P. designation.

In keep with the celebration, CIPS Saskatchewan will be publishing the names and photos of this year's Saskatchewan I.S.P. recipients in The Leader Post and The Star Phoenix on Saturday November 7, 2009. Join us in congratulating our latest I.S.P.s 2009 and I.S.P. of the Year Nominations.

We are currently accepting 2009 Information System Professional of the Year candidate nominations. Submissions should be made for I.S.P. candidates with the following qualifications and characteristics;

- Holds an I.S.P. designation
- Is a member in good standing with CIPS Saskatchewan
- Adheres to and demonstrates I.S.P. ethics and standards of conduct
- Promotes the general awareness of the I.S.P. within the IT community
- Has made a recognizable contribution to I.S.P. at the local or national level

We ask you for a description of the candidate's contribution to IT professionalism and why the candidate should receive the award (50 words or less).

Submission deadline is end of business day, Friday Oct 23, 2009.

Email submissions to CIPS Saskatchewan: saskatchewan@cips.ca

Attention: 2009 I.S.P. of the Year Nominations.

Please provide the candidate's full name, place of work and business telephone number in addition to confirmation that the candidate agrees to accept the nomination and recognition provided by CIPS Saskatchewan.

The successful I.S.P. recipient will receive:

- Recognition in the Regina Leader Post and the Saskatoon Star Phoenix
- Recognition on the CIPS provincial web site
- A recognition gift presented at the successful candidate's local December event

Previous winners of this award include:

Bev Gooding, I.S.P. (2008)
Len Andres, I.S.P. (2007)
Randy Rein, I.S.P. (2006)
Daryle Niedermayer, I.S.P. (2005)
Grant Kerr, I.S.P. (2004)
Donna Lindskog, I.S.P. (2003)
Dorothy Josephson, I.S.P. (2002)